“Jealousy and Envy” - by Shaikh. Saalih ibn Fawzaan al-Fawzaan

Shaikh. Saalih Al-Fawzaan

All praises belongs to Allaah and I bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and messenger; to proceed: O' people, there is a vilified trait that the Prophet warned his ummah from it, and forbade from it, and it is jealousy, he said:

"The disease of the nations who came before you has started to spread among you:

envy and hatred " He also said : "Do not be envious of one another; do not hate one another; do not artificially raise prices against one another; do not turn one's back on each other; and do not undercut one another in business transactions. And be, [O] servants of Allah, brethren. A Muslim is the brother of a Muslim. He does not belittle him. He does not forsake him. He does not betray him. And he does not show contempt for him. It is sufficient enough of evil for a person to despise his Muslim brother Every Muslims blood, wealth and honor is sacred" Fear Allah, O servants of Allaah for jealousy is one of the most destructive characteristic that has spread in this ummah and consequently it has with terrible effects. The meaning of jealousy is the hoping in the removal of the blessing from the one who is envied. When he sees his brother blessed with what Allaah has given him, then he hopes that this blessing disappears from him for no other reason except because of his hatred and when he hated him (he therefore) envied him. Jealousy is an ancient disease, and the first to envy was Satan, (May Allaah's curse be upon him) when he envied our father Adam for the virtues that Allah gave him. He created Adam by His hands, taught him the names of everything, made the Angels prostrate to him and let him live in His Paradise. Therefore, Ibliss became Cont'd ... Page 2

Beware of “Jealousy and Envy”, they are two of the main diseases of the Heart

“And wish not for the things in which Allâh has made some of you to excel others. For men there is reward for what they have earned, (and likewise) for women there is reward for what they have earned, and ask Allâh of His Bounty. Surely, Allâh is Ever All-Knower of everything.”(4:32)

The cure for envy is to ask Allah for His bounty as Allah is Expansive and All Knowing..

angry and refused to prostrate to Adam along with the Angels. Allaah says: "Then the Angels all of them prostrated together" (15:30)

So when their Lord said to them (ordered them) to prostrate to Adam; they all did so except Iblis as Allaah mentioned: "Except Iblis he refused to be from those who bow down" (7:11) And Allaah says: "He refused and became arrogant and was from the disbelievers"(2:34)

All this was because he became jealous of what Allaah gave him of these virtues so he refused to prostrate to him; arrogantly claiming that he is better than Adam. He claimed that he was better because he was created from fire while Adam was created from clay, and his assumption was that fire is far better than clay and this is a false reasoning (he had). Certainly clay is better than fire because it brings about the harvest of good plants, vegetables, fruits and many other goods things are reaped from it. In contrary to this the fire only destroys, (and) does not produce anything; it only destroys and ruins. Thus, his assumption felled and what he sought was null and void. When he became arrogant regarding Adam and envied him, Allaah expelled him and cursed him.

He was from amongst the first along with the Angels, worshipping Allaah in the heavens, but when he became jealous of Adam Allaah expelled him, cursed him and sent him down to the earth. He became a leader for the evil and wicked and a caller to every evil and (Allaah) made him from the people of the fire and a caller to it for eternity, all because of jealousy. If only he did not envy Adam and he had prostrated with the Angels who were not envious of him, he would have remained there with honor and position. However, when he began to be jealous and turned away from (the command) of Allaah, then he was expelled, cursed and made distant from Allaah and we seek refuge in Allaah from that. These are the effects of jealousy, Allah says: “And recite to them the story of Adam's two sons, in truth,(Cain and Abel the sons of Adam) when they both offered a sacrifice [to Allaah], and it was accepted from one of them but was not accepted from the other...”(5:27)

So the one who Allaah accepts from is the one who has taqwa and He does not accept from the one who does not have taqwa, as Allaah says: “Allaah only accepts from those who have taqwa”(5:27) So he envied his brother and he said (as Allaah mentions)

Said [the latter], “I will surely kill you.”(5:27) So he threatened his brother that he would kill him and his brother (Abel) said to him, as Allaah mentioned; “If you should raise your hand against me to kill me - I shall not raise my hand against you to kill you. Indeed, I fear Allaah...”(5:28) He feared Allaah and he was afraid of killing his brother. This jealous oppressive wrong doer saw nothing else except the killing of his brother (as Allaah says) “And his soul permitted to him the murder of his brother, so he killed him and became among the losers.”(5:30) Firstly, he cut the ties of relation (between him and his brother) Secondly, he envied his brother for what Allaah specified for him from the acceptance of his sacrifice. Allaah says; “...so he killed him and became among the losers.”(5:30)

(The killer obtained) a lost; there is no restoring or repairing ever! And all this was because of envy and Allaah's refuge is sought. Look at how jealousy leads to the taking of life and leads to disbelief which is greater, and we seek refuge with Allaah from that. It also leads to the curse of Allaah like what happened to Iblis (Shaytaan).

So the cure for envy is to ask Allaah for His bounty as Allaah is Expansive and All Knowing and also the cure for envy is that you believe in al-qadaa (when Allaah decrees a thing takes place when it does) and al-Qadr (what Allaah has written to take place and has not occurred yet) . So when your brother obtains something it is only because Allaah made it come about and it was written for him. Do not reject and turn away from Allaah and what He has decreed for others. Do not say that so and so is not deserving of this thing, like we hear from some of the people. They say "by Allaah so and so does not deserve this, why so and so." Or if a calamity befalls someone they say so and so is good, he doesn't deserve this punishment!
